

A Message to Non-nuclear-weapon States
from the Russian Federation

* We have fully discharged our Article VI obligations to pursue negotiations in good faith on ending the nuclear arms race. Meanwhile, you have done nothing on general and complete disarmament.

* We are ready to work with our US ~~adversaries~~ partners, when strategic considerations allow.

* We reserve our sovereign right to use the NPT and other multilateral mechanisms to settle bilateral scores with the United States, and occasionally China.

* As long as nuclear weapons exist, we will maintain a capacity to wave them about in a threatening manner.

* There is nothing for you to do here, or to ~~worry your pretty little heads~~ be concerned about.

* Sit quietly and do not interfere.

Message ends.
